TALK OF GOLD GOING.

But Perhaps Exchange Enough Will Come on the Market to Break the Rate.

Fresh talk regarding the probabilty of gold exports to Europe resulted yesterday from the strength of sterling exchange. Demand bills sold as high as $4.8695, and $4.87 was asked for Saturday's steamship. Coincident with the advance in rates here, cable advices from Paris reported exchange on London selling there at a decline to 25 france 13 centimes. This, it was figured, brought the gold export point to about ½ of a cent above the day's level for exchange, it being calculated that gold could be shipped abroad with demand exchange selling here around $4.8750. It was predicted that if money rates here continue easy, gold will go to the French capital. But it at least one important financial quarter. in at least one important financial quarter the opinion was expressed that probably lafore any gold was actually engaged for shipment abroad, a supply of exchange was likely to come on the market and break the rates.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY, Jan. 12. Liquidation, as discreetly conducted as possible, was the feature of to-day's stock market. The market opened briskly and at a slightly higher range than that of Saturday's close, and popular sentiment seemed to favor the idea that the pools which had been manipulating prices upward and whose power to continue doing so was unquestioned, would, after the little reaction that had occurred, resume their evidently had stocks to sell rather than to buy. After the first half-hour stocks were poured into the market in quantity, care being taken, however, not to break prices severely. Trading was very active, generally at the expense of values, until midday. Then the market became dull and stagnant, the pressure to sell stocks relaxing, but no desire to buy on the declines manifesting itself. Business, in fact, almost came to a standstill, a phenomenon that testified with a good deal of force to the amount of genuine public interest in the market. The calm continued to the last hour, when liquidation was renewed so that prices closed nearly at the lowest Whatever news of the day there wa did not seem to influence the market any degree. The ease in money rates con tinued. Eminent authorities on the mone situation say that one of the chief reaso for these comparatively low rates is th Exchange collateral, greatly fearing t settlements at the end of the year, amp supplied themselves in the middle of D cember with time funds for use for 60 as 90 days. When the loans thus made made ture and Stock Exchange houses are aga in the market for money, it is possible th desired article than it is now. Mea time, the feeling of competent observe is that money rates will not fall very mufurther. Sterling exchange and fran were higher in this market to-day and t Paris cheque declined to 25 francs 13 ce times. All these, of course, are steps is the difference of opinion usual such times among experts in the fo eign exchange market as to wheth gold shipments are imminent, but t action of the market to-day brin these shipments within reaching distant at least. The matter will, undoubted from now on assume considerable in portance in speculative operations. should not be forgotten that this is a tin of the year when we normally ship go and that the natural working of circur stances is making for the event. T most favorable incident of the day was t rather large buying by London. Part this buying was ascribed to the purchas against calls invariably made by the Lond sellers of such privileges as soon as t sales are consummated. The death of capitalist formerly very prominent in t railway world had little effect, as it w well known that his market commitmen had long been closed. The announceme that the railroads centring in Chica, had practically compromised the demand of the trainmen for increased wages granting an increase of 121/2 per cent. w of course, favorably received, althou its direct bearing on the much discuss matter of enlarged and enlarging railw expenses was evident. Stocks of the cor-carrying roads were affected somewh in the late trading by the report from Was ington that a repeal of the duty on coal w imminent and that the appointment of joint Congress committee to investigate entire coal strike and coal trade questi was probable. The brunt of liquidati during the day, was, however, borne the Erie and Rock Island issues, and St. Paul and Missouri Pacific. St. Pa has been notably heavy for some tim than a point. The large deliveries to-de of shares sold on Friday and Saturday houses that have recently been most pron afforded proof of the distribution of stoc that has recently been accompli-hed.

A. Norden & Co. have interrogated several hundered correspondents throughout the South as to the actual stocks of cotton held at incounted interior towns, as well as in farmers' hands, and cotton still in the fields. Their replies, received from 240 towns, show that the aggregate of these three items amounts to 8214 per cent. of the same items in the same districts last year. The amount coming into sight last year from now on was 3,805, 876 bales, and on the basis of the above percentage the indicated amount to come into sight this year from now on would be 3,002,846 bales, which, added to the amount already in sight 7,078,847 bales would give an indicated total crop of 10,078,858 bales. A. Norden & Co., after making allowances for errors and omissions, reduce their crop estimate from 11,000,000 bales maximum made to October lust to 10,000,000 bales maximum.
Applying these figures to the statistical situation which shows an excess of spinners' takings to date of 401,810 bales in excess of last year, A. Norden & Co. show that on a continuation of consumption on the same basis for the balance of the season; the visible supply of American cotton would be reduced to 154,285 bales, by far the smallest figures ever known.
